"Merry Christmas" from Pres. First to be robbed of our hard earned money to be given to the rest of the world without our approval.

We the people must stand up for our rights; we must be heard.

Once the richest and most powerful Country on earth, it has fallen into debt and deprivation by the people being silent.

Merry Christmas comrades.

Thank God we still live in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Political correctness with its "holiday tree," "holiday season" and "happy holidays" has about done me in! How about you? I deliberately put out my nativity scene and lit it up for all to see and still greet everyone with Merry Christmas and respect this Holy time of year with one of the few precious truths we have to depend on, Life liberty and the pursuit of freedom to worship, as all Veterans fought and some even died to preserve.

I believe it's time for the silent majority to speak up and let the politicians know WE ARE THE MAJORITY and we will not stand

My church (congregation) population has sent Christmas cards to the ACLU by the hundreds. I encourage others to do the same. Merry Christmas to the ACLU will be sent by the thousands and they have to open to see if it's a contribution. Hopefully, it will keep them too busy to screw up Christmas any further.

Please remember me in your prayers. I will be in Morsani Medical center, as U.S.F. and VA Physicians operate this Tuesday * (forehead lift & eyelift operation). Thank God I married a nurse.

God Bless you all, GOD BLESS AMERICA and AMERICA BLESS GOD.

Every year, the first two weeks in November, Citrus County, FL Veteran's ad hoc committee selects Veterans to go into classrooms to present military experiences.

This year, 128 classes were requested by area teachers.

Hank Butler, Commander of Chapter Citrus 192, is a member of selection committee and also, with his wife, Rita, made presentations in ten classrooms.

The website is operational on the Association computer server in Charleston, IL. It does not cost the Department anything. I created and maintain the site on my own computer also at no cost to the Department. I use my own copy of Microsoft's Expression Web 4.0 to create and maintain the site.

I used one of their business templates, and just substituted our content for theirs. EW creates a standards

The site is, by design, functional, not shiny with waving flags etc.

As age overtakes us, dementia and Alzheimer's

An emerging 169 program, by Tom J Thiel, President, Chapter 169 KWVA.

As age begins to overtake the Korean Veteran, its tentacles are many, but one that haunts us perhaps as much as any is labeled dementia or Alzheimer's. Chapter 169 members have initiated a program to respond the needs of their Korean War veteran brothers. Locating affected members involves many avenues, some quite unique.

For example, on Dec. 2, Lois G. Herbst of Shoshoni, Wyoming, wrote me: "I receive the Florida 24thIDAVets newsletter for Major Edward J. Browne, who is now in Arbor Village at Wildwood, FL.

"Ed started his military career at age 16 in Jan. 1941 when he joined the U.S. Army, was with the 24th Infantry Division at Pearl Harbor (Schofield Barracks). He served in South Pacific. The Leyte battle helped him be assigned to Gen. MacArthur's Honor Guard during the occupation of Japan. He then went to Korea with the First Cavalry (wounded twice)...he has commendations and medals from three wars.

"He has no family in Florida. I am trying to get someone ... to visit him on Dec. 7th. Ed has dementia, but I think he would enjoy a visit from a fellow military man."

Above, Chapter 169 VP Dwight Brown talks with Bob Langstaff in his Tavares FL home trying to help Bob remember his youthful days as well as his days in service.

Another such contact came as a result of an advertisement one of our members, Don Lynch placed in a neighborhood shopping guide. Marie Langstaff called Don and asked if any of our members might be available to visit with her husband, Robert (Bob) Langstaff, who served during the Korean War.

I'm proud to say that Chapter 169 members rose to the occasion.

On November 2, after a Tell America trip to Christian Academy to meet with middle and high school students there, Dwight Brown, Dick and Vi Pfahler, and Tom Thiel visited the home of veteran Bob Langstaff, and his wife Marie. Bob suffers from Alzheimer's. We spent the better part of an hour with Bob and Marie around their dining room table and helped Bob remember events from his service time and home in Ohio as a youth.

And Don Lynch, Charlie White and Bill Shumaker visited Ed Browne early afternoon on Dec. 7, 2011, after they had done their color guard duties at the Villages Veterans Memorial that morning.

Don reported "... that Ed looked alert and healthy, but he couldn't put things togeth-pages or maybe menus) are arranged vertically along the left margin; they are titled: Home, About DoF, Officers, Membership, Chapters, Reunion, Newsletters, Contact, and Links. I decided on these categories by examining our Department Mission Statement.

Each of these primary pages has many content elements (or submenus or subpages); for example, the About DoF button has the following clickable submenus: Meetings, KWVA, Reunion & Fellowship, Recruitment & Membership, PDF Files, Chaplain, Stories and Books, Getting Your Military Records, History, EX-POWs, and TAPS.

And in turn, each of these has many subpages themselves. In all there are about 280 computer files where a file may be a single page of text or a photo to an 800-page book. For example, There is one 842-page book on the site. It is “South to the Naktong, North to the Yalu,” by Appleman. I do not know how many actual pages are on the site.

The Chapters Button is a place where each Chapter may place material of value to your chapter members—your stuff. So far, I’ve only gotten material from Hank Butler and Henry Moreland .

Lack of Content, the informational stuff that websites are built with, is the most serious problem with the website. Some officers have not even sent me your photos yet!

Another problem is the lack of user feedback. I have received two or three comments; it makes me wonder if it is worth the effort.

Finally, keep in mind that everything on the site is viewable to the entire cyber world! ###TJT

From your editor

Tom J Thiel

With this, the last issue of the News for 2011, we close out another year we didn't expect to see. Despite a lot of gloom there were some personal bright spots. I'll not bore you with the details—just say 83 is here!

As probably most of you know I believe in letting the computer do my work. There is no possible way I could do what I do without the electronic power of the computer.

And you likely also know that I include in that the power of other computers too, such as our Association Membership Database.

But sadly, our Association leadership apparently does not realize this as the severe crunch of year-end renewals is impossible to manage with the resources currently allotted to getting them logged into the system in a timely manner.

What do I mean? Dues payments we made the first of November are still not logged at the end of December! Yet the automated computer converts memberships from Active to Inactive status while our check lies somewhere in the pile of 5,000 or so year-end renewals!

Need I say more?

Of course very soon into 2012 we will be again assembling at the January 28 Council meeting in Crystal River. If you haven't registered yet, please do so now—form on pg. 5.

From the Information on page 6, you will learn that I'm to do a 30-minute presentation about On Line Resources "primarily for Chapter Officers." Yet the greatest need to better utilize computer resources, especially online, has long-been at the DoF level—and I assure you that is not improving. We could have used a full day!

I want to thank Hank Butler & Henry Moreland for supplying material for this letter. I urge all of you to provide material for future newsletters.

I hope you all had a Merry Christmas and that you will have a Happy New Year! Tom J. Thiel
